

Shelley Warren

Shelley Warren has been involved in the used truck industry since 2008, when she began her career with the Used Truck Association, working closely with members, sponsors, dealers, and industry partners. That experience gave her a strong foundation and a deep appreciation for the connections that make the industry successful.

In 2012, Shelley joined ADESA's Truck & Equipment Division as Sales & Marketing Manager in Atlanta. Since 2013, she has been with IAA, now part of RB Global, where she serves as Sales Manager for the Specialty Division. She works with finance companies, fleet operators, dealers, and government agencies across the country, helping them remarket commercial trucks, trailers, construction equipment, agricultural equipment, RVs, and other specialty assets.

The UTA has been an important part of Shelley's career from the very beginning. She remains an active member of the UTA, serves on the NAFA Southeast Regional Council, and is also active with the Equipment Leasing & Finance Association (ELFA) and the Automotive Remarketing Alliance (ARA).

Shelley believes that strong relationships are the foundation of a successful industry, and the connections she built through the UTA continue to shape her career today. She would be honored to give back to the association by serving on the UTA Board of Directors.
